We do not make available to anyone your personal information neither do we share your information.

We do not sell your data. The nature of the internet and cloud storage means that data may be processed in another country but we have no current servers which operate outside of the United Kingdom at the date of this policy being released.

For statistical data and information your flight hours and full pipep data are shared to the creator of our tracking program, your personal information is not shared, your lastname is masked so only the first letter is shared to protect your privacy, this data is transmitted to a server in the USA to which we have no association with.

We do not collect sensitive personal information, which is information relating to ethnicity, political opinions, religious beliefs, trade union membership, physical or mental health or condition, sexual life or criminal record.

The lawful basis on which we use your information...

- Processing is necessary for the identification and verification that you are who you claim to be and also you are old enough to maintain an account on our servers.
- You have given specific consent to the processing of your data which you have agreed to before creating an account with us.
- Continued use of our services and of our website will signify that you agree to the terms of our privacy policy and any reasonable changes that may be made. If at any time you do not agree with the terms, please do not use our website or register your personal information with us. You may withdraw your consent for us to use your data at any time, and within the limits of any current contractual obligation you have with us we will comply. Once our relationship is at an end you may request we delete your data and subject to any other overarching legal obligations we will comply. You have a right to be told about any information we hold about you, simply contact our Data Protection Officer and subject to verification we will provide this information to you.

We are committed to safeguarding the privacy of our website visitors, this policy sets out how we will treat your personal information.

(1) What information do we collect? We may collect, store and use the following kinds of personal data: 1. Information about your visits to and use of this website; 2. Information about any transactions carried out between you and us on or in relation to this website; 3. Information that you provide to us for the purpose of registering with us, and/or leaving guestbook comments, and/or subscribing to our website services and/or email notifications.

(2) Information about website visits We may collect information about your computer and your visits to this website such as your IP address, geographical location, browser type, referral source, length of visit and number of page views. We may use this information in the administration of this website, to improve the website's usability, and for marketing purposes. We use cookies on this website. A cookie is a text file sent by a web server to a web browser, and stored by the browser. The text file is then sent back to the server each time the browser requests a page from the server. This enables the web server to identify and track the web browser. We may send a cookie which may be stored by your browser on your computer's hard drive. We may use the information we obtain from the cookie in the administration of this website, to improve the website's usability and for marketing purposes. We may also use that information to recognise your computer when you visit our website, and to personalise our website for you. Most browsers allow you to refuse to accept cookies. (For example, in Internet Explorer you can refuse all cookie by clicking "Tools", "Internet Options", "Privacy", and selecting "Block all cookies" using the sliding selector.) This will, however, have a negative impact upon the usability of many websites.

(3) Using your personal data Personal data submitted to this website will be used for the purposes specified in this privacy policy or in relevant parts of the website. In addition to the uses identified elsewhere in this privacy policy, we may use your personal information to: 1. Improve your browsing experience by personalising the website; 2. Provide other organisations with statistical information about our users - but this information will not be used to identify any individual user. We will not without your express consent provide your personal information to any third parties for the purpose of direct marketing.

(4) Other disclosures In addition to the disclosures reasonably necessary for the purposes identified elsewhere in this privacy policy, we may disclose information about you: 1. To the extent that we are required to do so by law; 2. In connection with any legal proceedings or prospective legal proceedings; 3. In order to establish, exercise or defend our legal rights (including providing information to others for the purposes of fraud prevention and reducing credit risk); 4. Except as provided in this privacy policy, we will not provide your information to third parties.

(5) Security of your personal data We will take reasonable precautions to prevent the loss, misuse or alteration of your personal information. Of course, data transmission over the internet is inherently insecure, and we cannot guarantee the security of data sent over the internet.

(6) Policy amendments We may update this privacy policy from time-to-time by posting a new version on our website. You should check this page occasionally to ensure you are happy with any changes.

(7) Third party websites The website contains links to other websites. We are not responsible for the privacy policies of third party websites.

(8) This Privacy Policy is based on a freely-available template created and distributed by www.website-law.co.uk.
